

PSC Cruiser Race OOD Duties 2017

In order for the cruiser series of races to proceed, personnel are required to assist the sailing committee with the following:

- Make available and man a committee boat
- Undertake the start
- Run the race in accordance with the race instructions
- Ensure elapsed times are collected and passed back to the Cruiser Captain.

As in previous years a cruiser is nominated to be responsible for the above duties for all PSC races. The skipper of the nominated cruiser can either use their own boat as committee boat or book the work boat (for in harbour races). If they choose to use their own boat then they are permitted to start that race once their start duties are complete, and make appropriate adjustments to their elapsed time. If they choose, the skipper can arrange for others to conduct the start so that they can race, but overall the nominated skipper is responsible for making sure that everything is in place including flags, signalling equipment and communications.

Where a boat is not able to race due to fulfilling an OOD duty then they will receive a score for the race they miss of average points for the series on which they perform their OOD duty.

Where a boat fails to fulfil their OOD duty and does not make alternative arrangements for their duty to be fulfilled they will be scored as DSQ from the race in which they were scheduled to do their OOD duty. DSQ scores may not be discarded when calculating overall series results.
